1. INTRODUCTION

Our focus during this financial year will be on effective transformational leadership, innovation , accountability, attitudinal change, application of good governance practises, evidence based information, community involvement in matters directly affecting them and enhancement of the developmental agenda.

The first step towards transformation and restoration of leadership and governance was the review of the Vision and Mission Statement and Values of the department to enable us to respond swiftly and effectively to the expectations of those we serve. We have embarked on a comprehensive effort to overhaul the leadership and governance capabilities of the Department. This is being done via various avenues which include organizational restructuring, planning and performance assessment improvements (Balanced Score Card) and the re-alignment of HR and SCM procedures and operations.

The Department of Economic, Small Business Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs draws its mandate the constitution and entails provision of services around Environmental Management, Promotion and Protection of Biodiversity, Tourism Support, Economic Development and Support. This document (External Service Standards) is meant to guide both service beneficiaries (member of public) and service providers (departmental officials). In short, Service Standards can be viewed as the rules of engagement for providing services to the public. They provide clarity to service beneficiaries on quantity, quality and time in relation to the External services rendered. Service beneficiaries are entitled to know what they should expect from the department, how services will be delivered and what they cost, and what service beneficiaries can do when services they receive are not acceptable. External Service Standards provide the behavioral attributes that leads to consistent service delivery.

DESTEA present this service product offerings, to guide not only the service beneficiaries, but also to ensure service provided are rendered within stipulated requirements.
